

Preface

“It is thanks to Chaucer’s reading of the Comedy that English verse joins the main stream of European poetry.” —

J. A. W. Bennett, “Chaucer, Dante and Boccaccio”

(Rome, 1977; Cambridge, 1983)

Towards Medieval European Philology through Chaucer to Dante —
A Bibliography consists of three parts. The first part is a bibliography of specific references for books and articles (entry / item numbers [1] to [5307]). The second part is an index of authors and editors. The third part is an index of subjects (selected) for specialists and their annotations.

*Abbreviations and Symbols

[outline] [outline contents]
[detailed] [detailed contents]

*Entry / item number

Specimen A

[3857] Krummel, Donald William

Bibliographies, Their Aims and Methods.

London and New York: Mansell Publishing Limited, 1984;

1990. x + 192 pp.

*From the first part

(K-102) Krummel, Donald William [b. 1929]

1. Bibliographies, Their Aims and Methods (London and New York, 1984; 1990) [3857]

*From the second part

[3857] for Krummel

Specimen B

[932] Gneuss, Helmut

Lehnbildungen und Lehnbedeungen im Altenglischen.

Berlin: Erich Schmidt Verlag, 1955. viii + 184 pp. [5257] (detailed)

*From the first part

[5257] Gneuss, Helmut Walter Georg

Lehnbildungen und Lehnbedeungen im Altenglischen.

Berlin: Erich Schmidt Verlag, 1955. viii + 184 pp. [932] (outline)

*From the first part

(G-33) Gneuss, Helmut Walter Georg [b. 1927]

1. Lehnbildungen und Lehnbedeungen im Altenglischen.

(Berlin, 1955)

[932] (outline) [5257] (detailed)

*From the second part

[932] for Gneuss (outline)

[5257] for Gneuss (detailed)

Specimen C

[M-19] Medieval Multilingualism

*From the third part

[M-19-1] [446] Albert

[M-19-2] [1085] Bailey and Maroldt

[M-19-3] [871] Berndt

[M-19-4] [873] Berndt

[M-19-5] [1813] Bischoff

[M-19-6] [3362] Bonaventure

[M-19-7] [1363] Brooks (ed.)

[M-19-8] [935] Burnley

[M-19-9] [382] Burrow

.

.

.

[M-19-97] [315] Yeager

[M-19-98] [1188] Zumthor

*File: Language Contact [L-1]

*File: Linguistic Borrowing and Bilingualism [L-4]

*File: Foreign Influences on the English Language [F-2]

*File: Loan-Words and Interference Phenomena in English [L-5]

“Medieval Multilingualism” is informed that this subject is closely relevant to other related subjects, such as “Language Contact”, “Linguistic Borrowing and Bilingualism”, “Foreign Influences on the English Language”, and “Loan-Words and Interference Phenomena in English.”